NORMAN LIGHTY, Des Moines, Iowa.

DEAR SIR:—Having suffered a great deal from headache for years and being unable to get relief until it would wear away of itself. I saw Krause's Headache Capsules advertised, I tried them and now am never without them, finding it the only remedy that will give me relief. When I now find a headache coming on me I take a capsule and find the relief instantaneous.

Respectfully yours,

G. H. WRIGHT,

Edisons Latest.

In an interview recently, Thos. Edison said:

The kinetograph is to the eye what the phonograph is to the ear. By this machine figures can be produced on a screen; every shade of expression and every gesture can be reproduced. To make this machine I had to take forty-six pictures a second. This is equal to the capacity of the eye. Ten or twenty or even thirty pictures a second would show the movements of an arm, but in jerks, but with forty-six photographs a second the arm is seen to rise just as the human eye sees it, and with the same speed.

"A combination of phonograph and kinetograph, which I shall probably call the photo-kinetograph. I have also in course of construction. This will show a man's every motion, and the likeness will speak.

THE SILVER FIGHT.

Washington D. C., August 17.—Somebody started a storey to-day that there was in the Senate a clear majority for the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act and for a time there was high glee among the goldbug, but they sobered up after a time and confessed that perhaps they had been a little premature.

No great terror would seize the silver men, however, should the bill reported be for unconditional repeal. A careful poll of the Senate to-day gives a majority of seven for free coinage and against unconditional repeal. These are silver figures, it is true, but all the doubtful ones like Voorhees were left out of the calculation, that is, they were put on the gold side.

Senator Dubois is so sure of the silver position that he said to-night: "I should like nothing better than to have a direct vote on the plain position of repeal. We would win, and then the people would know exactly the nature of the measure defeated and the sentiments of the Senate, about which there is now so much contradictory gossip, would be clearly set forth. The silver men in the Senate are for free coinage at 16 to 1 and nothing else."

When Senator Jones came out of the Finance Committee room this afternoon he said that there had been no definite agreement to bring in a bill. He was then told of the goldbug pool of the Senate which gave the gold men a clear majority of nine with three others doubtful, and he said: "I listen with amazement at the statements made by some men to-day who expressed other sentiments only a short time ago. I am surprised and cannot understand it. No, I cannot tell you what effort public patronage has on certain individuals. Each must be his own judge in that respect."

All the silver Senators—that is, Jones, Stewart, Teller, Wolcott, Shoup, Dubois and Power—were interviewed to day and all agreed that the fight would be prolonged until unconditional repeal was beaten, and they served notice upon the gold men that it was war to the knife without respect to the wishes of the New York bankers and without a care as to what becomes of them. They confess that there are Southern silver Senators, like Mills of Texas, who will betray their trusts and follow the administration.

The programme of the gold men in the Senate in brief is this: They will bring enough influence to bear upon the weak-kneed Southern Democrats to give them a majority and then pass a bill for unconditional repeal with a declaration at the end in favor of bimetalism. This declaration will be in the nature of a promise to pass some kind of a silver measure during the regular session, which promise will be carefully evaded in the future.

In the House the little snowball rolled by the silver Republicans has developed into a good-sized sphere. To show how much progress has been made the case of Michigan has been cited. There are seven Republicans in the delegation, and it is said that surely four of them, possibly five and possibly six, will vote against unconditional repeal. Only one is now positively known to favor the measure, he being Burroughs. Of the four Democrats left, Judge Chipman having died to-day, three are counted for free silver.

Similar figures are reported from other States, though there have not yet been enough gains, according to a fair estimate made to-day, to beat Mr. Cleveland and his pet measure.

There was under discussion in the Treasury Department to-day a scheme involving many figures and much that is comprehensible only to a statistician, but which reduce to plain figures is this: There is in the treasury about 6000 tons of silver bullion against which silver certificates, have been issued. The silver certificates, according to law, represent not bullion, but the market price of bullion. If the bullion had been coin, with the market price as the standard of value, it is estimated that the coins would possess a ratio of about 20 to 1. Now it is proposed by Secretary Carlisle to coin this bullion at 16 to 1, calling in the notes, which would place in the United States treasury, as nearly as can be calculated, one silver dollar for every four or five certificates issued. This would be a clear profit, and the Secretary thinks that with this increase in currency he could build up the gold fund and place the treasury in a stronger condition than for many months past.

COAST NEWS.

Sonoma county hop-growers propose to employ white labor.

Edward L. Brennan, a popular Native Son, dropped dead at Vallejo, Friday.

Over 100 Spokane Chiramen are preparing to start back to Asia next month, nearly all of them to remain. They have accumulated sums ranging from $1,000 to $2,000 during their stay in America.

The feeling is running high against Asiatics in the Upper Napa Valley who have been employed in the prune orchards, and the white laboring element is holding mass meetings at Calistoga as a protest.

Advices from Joseph City in Beaver county, Utah, tell of largest and disastrous waterspout that ever visited Utah. It struck Clear Creek Canon and teamsters escaped with difficulty and only after a furious drive for high ground.

The labor difficulties at Fresno are complicated by the conduct of "night raiders," composed of men who, after dark, visit the orchards and vineyards and take away in wagons the Chinese who are employed there and dumping them into Fresno's Chinatown. This element is declared to be of a vicious character, with its headquarters in a disreputable saloon and the Sheriff has determined to stop its work.

While H. Starr, of Santa Rosa was driving a 6-horse team, with a party of tourists inside the bus, on the Calistoga road, and while at a grade of 200 feet the horses became unmanageable and Mr. Starr, to save a greater disaster, turned the horses so as to cause an upset. The wheels of the bus passed over his legs, but the others of the party were but slightly bruised.

Forest fires are now raging more furiously than ever known before in the Santiam country, in Oregon. One fire near Leedy's mill is making it way eastward, and another north of Niagara is under good headway in the same direction and three miles east of Idanha is another. The most furious one, and one that is spreading in all directions, is five miles up the Breitenbush. There is no possible chance of checking the fires until heavy rains set in. Millions of feet of fine timber will be destroyed in the meantime.

Foster's Forecast.

This storm will develop its greatest force in the Mississippi valley, from the 28th to the 30th, and will probably become a furious storm on the 29th.
